Callie,
 To a real good friend
 remember all the fun in Home ec. and all the hell
 we gave Obedeck. (Bet she'll never forget it) And remember any time you don't have anyone to eat with you can eat with me! Good luck in the future.

Anxious little faces waiting outside the door,
 To hear from siblings and friends of exciting tales galore:
 "Our class brought our pets today, it was just like in the zoo, and learned of our first President, bet you can't guess who."
 So joyful brimming with fear and pride,
 The busses pull in, and you've finally arrived.
 The kid days are over, a new life is begun,
 So pick up the books but throw out the gum,
 Offering the best of both worlds, the doors open wide,
 As the bells of opportunity ring out of gifts from inside
 A passion is kindled, a young mind unlocked,
 Characters are molded, and interests are stocked.
 With every quest pursued each day becomes an adventure
 As the mind, body and soul prepare for the future.
 The passing years and parting paths produced in each his own desires
 To be satisfied by this institution of which our devotion and yearning never tires.
 We began the journey, leaving childhood security,
 Until the near day we exit, with out teen-age maturity.
 Kindergarten was milk that always came late,
 It was Bill's love notes asking girls for a date;
 It was putting heads down after a long recess
 And wondering why your name always looked such a mess;
 It was learning the difference between a three and an E,
 And seeing Jeff and Steve kicked out for talking during the story.
 Then came reading "See Dot run."
 And boys chasing girls—oh what fun!
 Watching and waiting to go outside
 And Steve fell off that big, tall slide.
 Movies in the gym during in or out,
 Sandy being a horse and running about,
 Mr. Stucker's mysterious spanking machine,
 The lady living by the playground who kids said was mean;
 An X on your hand to keep cooties away
 And Donna's tongue stuck to the monkey bars one day,
 Debbie got stuck in the mud by the track,
 And Kerry Hatter sat on a tack;
 The beat of the famous Austin shake,
 And wondering just how much the sub would take—Everyone coughing at ten after ten
 Or drop your pencils when the announcements end;
 Girls sure fought during their baseball games,
 And on Mr. Taylor's test everyone scored the same;
 Linda Smith had her arm in a cast,
 And Larry Kroeger sure could run fast;
 Prepositions are anything a squirrel does to a tree,
 And remember the pronunciation of "dictionary."
 Mrs. Hiser watered everything in sight,
 And Joe Guyer never could really write.
 Then, seventh grade seemed to be strange
 Cause everyone seemed to suddenly change—
 They went to dances, basketball and football games,
 But I guess deep down we were still the same
 Cause Steve's thumb got stuck in Mr. Chumley's wall,
 And kids got hollered at for goofing in the hall;
 There were soap fights in Home Ec class,
 Squirt guns and notes secretly passed.
 Skipping became part of the fun
 And talk about whose car could really run
 And though the onerous, paltry assignments from truculent teachers seemed miseries,
 Our once latent potentials were instigated and our malapropisms transformed to laudable vocabularies.
 Now we look to the future, as the school days soon end,
 And say "Dundee High, We're proud to attend."
 So with the knowledge we've gained plus all our friends and fun,
 It's been 13 great years for the Class of '71.

Future Homemakers of America

We are the Future Homemakers of America
We face the future with warm courage
And high hope
For we have the clear consciousness of seeking
Old and precious values
For we are the builders of homes
Homes for America's future
Homes where living will be the expression of everything
That is good and fair
Homes where truth and love and security and faith
Will be realities, not dreams
We are the Future Homemakers of America
We face the future with warm courage
And high hope

Student Librarians

High School Librarians

If the library is the heart of the school, the student librarians keep it beating. Their duties are many and varied, and they gladly give up their study periods to keep the library an effective learning center.

Attendance at the annual SLAAM conference, which was held at Western Michigan University last year, keeps our librarians in touch with statewide activities.

Homecoming events consist not only of the Friday events, but of many events taking place all week long. Classes and organizations plan and construct floats. The halls are strewn with the signs and decorations of each class. Suspense and excitement grows with the school spirit-minded students. Everyone prepares.

Thursday, the real celebration begins with a snake dance. Everyone forms a snake and goes from school to the center of town. Here the cheering begins. Then, the snake goes back to school for a bonfire and more cheering. A last minute finish-up job on the floats, and everything is ready for Friday.

I couldn't believe it when they called my name! I never even dreamed that I would get it. I can't say how I felt at that moment because it just can't be expressed. When we went to get pictures taken, I met a lot of nice people who were competing for United Fund Queen. When the night finally came, it was kind of scary to go out in front of all of those people, but it was fun. I hope that the band, and more people will go next year because you don't get so scared if you know your friends are out there. It has really been a nice experience to be Miss DHS, and I hope that I haven't disappointed anyone.

"Those were the days my friend, we thought they'd never end, we'd sing and dance forever and a day. We'd live the life we choose, we'd fight and never lose, for we were young and sure to have our way."

We, in the Senior Trip Club, have earned money to help send us to Washington D.C. Some of the projects that we have undertaken for this have been bakesales, raffles, a car wash, and a basketball game.

We hope to have a good time and to urge next year's Senior Class to continue the tradition
